The Shadows of Shoah Exhibition is a unique multidisciplinary Holocaust exhibition. Since its launch by New Zealand Prime Minister John Key at a United Nations International Holocaust Remembrance Day event in 2013 it has toured art galleries, museums, and public spaces throughout New Zealand. It is currently undertaking its twentieth staging.

In a media saturated culture Shadows of Shoah has gained acclaim for its ability to engage the young, the media savvy, and the general public, by its use of powerful portraiture, original music and poignant, brief, historically accurate survivor stories.

Now, from the creators of Shadows of Shoah comes a new work, internationally debuted in Queensland, Australia, in August 2016.

Building on the success, concepts and stories of Shadows of Shoah, the new exhibition takes its name from the Prophet Jeremiah's Lamentation over the destruction of his people. River of Tears engages the senses in innovative new ways, while carefully maintaining fidelity to the survivors' accounts.

Queensland dates are as follows.

Brisbane: 22 August to 16 September 2016

Gold Coast: 7 November to 2 December 2016
